Routes with the Share the Road signage, and the lane painting sharrow featuring a bicycle and two white chevrons indicate the route is shared with both cyclists and motor vehicles. To learn more about the rules around shared routes, visit our Know the Rules section.

Routes that include signage and sharrow with a bike and a diamond indicate a reserved lane for cyclists. Designated bicycle lanes are a dedicated part of the roadway for the exclusive use of cyclists. Other road users may not lawfully drive, stand, stop or park in a designated bicycle.
